

Two Column Reading Order

LEFT-1 opens the left column of this synthetic page and continues across several wrapped lines so the column forms one clearly separated block.

RIGHT-1 opens the right column of the same synthetic page and also runs on for several wrapped lines to give the layout model a second clear block.

RIGHT-2 keeps the right column going with further filler wording that has no clinical content whatsoever.
